

YOUR CARE,
OUR COMMITMENT

St Luke's Hospital (SLH), named after the patron saint of the medical profession, was the first hospital in Singapore dedicated to the care of older persons. Today, we are a community care provider supporting needs through our care ecosystem, spanning inpatient, outpatient home care and community-based programmes, and specialised areas of care in rehabilitation, dementia, wound and palliative care.

HOLISTIC & PERSON-CENTRED CARE

Our holistic model of care address the physical, social and emotional needs of our patients, restoring them beyond wellness to wholeness.

CLINICAL

Our dedicated clinical team of doctors, nurses, therapists and allied health professionals provides comprehensive care for our patients, optimising their medical conditions while restoring and enhancing their functional abilities.

SOCIAL

Our medical social workers and care coordinators help patients and caregivers cope with financial and psychosocial issues, supporting them in their transition and reintegration into the community.

PASTORAL

Our counsellors and chaplains provide a listening ear and offer emotional or spiritual support to help lift the spirits, facilitate restoration and build the confidence and resilience of our patients and caregivers.
